Martyn's Law

- Background and current status
- Who Martyn's Law will apply to
- What you need to do and by when

Martyn's Law – purpose/aims

- Martyn's Law, officially known as The Terrorism (Protection of Premises) Bill, arose as a result of the campaign of Figen Murray MBE, the mother of Martyn Hett, one of the 22 people killed in the Manchester Arena terrorist attack on 17 May 2017.
- Objective – to enhance preparedness and protection from terrorist attacks in public venues

Martyn's Law – current status

- The bill has cross party support
- Home Office Select Committee and Opposition amendments are being considered
- Martyn's Law expected to come into force this year with some “lead in” time

Martyn's Law – who will it apply to?

- Publicly accessible premises, venues, spaces and (one off & regular) events
- Current proposal is
  - Standard Tier (200-799 people)
  - Enhanced Tier (800+ people)

Martyn's Law – what will be the duties, obligations and exemptions?

- Appointment of Regulatory (SIA), Registration/Notification Requirements and Responsible Person roles
- Qualified Duty – Reasonable Practicability
- Extent of duty depend on whether premises/event are Standard or Enhanced tier
- Likely Exemptions & Limited Requirements

THANK YOU
